

Have you an item of militaria that you would like identified, such as – a badge, piece of uniform or document

Would you like to know more about the uniform worn by an ancestor in a painting or photograph

Do you need advice on researching your military forebears

If the answer to any of these questions is YES you may wish to come along to one of our regular Identification and Advice Sessions when experts drawn from our curatorial team will be on hand to help you. There is no charge for this service (although donations are welcome) and no appointment is necessary—just come along to the National Army Museum between 2pm and 4.30pm on the following Mondays in 2010:

1 February
1 March
7 June

5 July
2 August
6 September

4 October
1 November
6 December

Please note that while we will attempt to identify your property, we are unable to give valuations. These may be obtained from a dealer or auctioneer.

For legal and health and safety reasons please do NOT bring along any edged weapons (swords, knives, bayonets, etc); firearms, hand grenades, ammunition or decorated shell cases; anything that may have radioactive components, such as watches and compasses with luminous paint, and please check that no items contain signs of infestation, eg by clothes moths. Please bring photographs of these items instead.

This service is available to personal callers only.
